GIBSON MUSEUM HONORS SIMON FAMILY

SACRAMENTO KINGS NATIVE AMERICAN HERITAGE NIGHT

WELLNESS IN THE WORKPLACE
Fellow Tribal Members,

Federally recognized Tribes are sovereign governments – many of which have undoubtedly contributed vast, significant cultural contributions to the diverse tapestry of American social, economic and political life.

Despite this recognition and contributions to society, Tribes like ours unfortunately must fight tirelessly to be remembered, respected and included in policy discussions at all levels of government—even when those policies could have significant impacts on our communities and our culture.

The latest example of this is a set of rule changes proposed by the National Park Service (NPS). As written, the rules would give significant unprecedented power to the U.S. government and big business by allowing them to prevent a site from being considered worthy of preservation and protection for its historical and cultural significance through the process of listing it in the National Register of Historic Places (NRHP).

It’s unconscionable that one rule change would prevent any revered site located on federal lands from even being considered for preservation unless the relevant federal agency requests the determination. In other words, there would be no way to determine a site’s eligibility for inclusion on the NRHP list unless an entity of the U.S. government made the request. This would essentially leave the process in the hands of culturally insensitive bureaucrats who aren’t particularly interested in preservation of Native culture.

Another proposed rule change would prevent properties from being listed in the NRHP if objections were received from a “person” who owned a majority of land or property in the area. Such a change would clearly benefit big mining businesses who see financial interest conflict with the preservation of significant sites whether they be tribal or not. A large company with a majority of nearby land holdings could effectively veto the inclusion of a property in the NRHP even if many others clearly wanted its inclusion.

This change would all be a far cry from what Congress intended when it passed the National Historic Preservation act of 1966. The law, as intended, was written to help any individual, property owners or interests groups identify and protect historic sites within the United States. The law was also designed to prevent rampant federal development from destroying our nation’s heritage – one that includes sites sacred to tribes and is comprised of lands outside of the artificial bounds imposed by reservations.

The National Park Service (NPS) initially found that it was not obligated to engage in tribal consultation over the proposed rule change. This conclusion conflicted with an executive order dating back to November 6, 2000 that requires federal agencies to consult with Tribes on any department regulation, rulemaking, policy, guidance or legislative proposal that could have a substantial and direct effect on an Indian tribe. Tribes from across the nation raised their voices to decry this rule change and demand a formal government-to-government consultation.

I personally flew to Washington, D.C. to engage with Members of Congress in order to share our Tribe’s worries about this flawed rule making.

I am happy to share that our engagement resulted in the NPS’ decision, announced recently, to engage in tribal consultation over the proposed changes. I truly hope that this is a legitimate consultation where the NPS takes into account the concerns raised by Indian Country. Far too often the federal government looks at its duty to consult with tribes as merely an exercise meant to “check the box.”

The Habematoilel Pomo of Upper Lake Tribe’s current restored lands consist of 11.24 acres, just a fraction of our historical lands leaving the majority of our aboriginal lands outside of our ownership and control; nonetheless, our people’s history, cultural patrimony and sacred sites are worthy of protection. Our Tribe depends on the effectiveness of the NRHP to protect our sites of cultural, spiritual, and historical significance outside the boundaries of our reservation lands. I hope that the NPS realizes the flaws in its proposed changes and abandons this rule making effort.

Respectfully,

Sherry Treppa
Chairperson

This year has been a busy year thus far. There have been many events, activities, and meetings planning for the Tribe’s future.

The year started off with the Tribe’s General Membership meeting on Saturday, January 12th. Darnell Aparicio and Kathy Bour, representatives from Lake County Tribal Health Consortium Clinic were on site during the meeting to administer free flu shots to Tribal Members. The meeting began by honoring our Tribal Elders with a gift, which was a white throw blanket with the Tribe’s logo. There were 16 out of 21 Tribal Elders present at the meeting. They then announced giveaway prizes, which included two flat screen TVs, donated by Meek Construction, co-owned by Tribal Member Teresa Meek, and a long board skateboard that was donated by Tribal Member Regina Icay. What a way to start off the New Year!

During the January meeting, the Tribal Administrator’s report began with a brief presentation from Barbaralee Lilker of AFLAC; on the programs and benefits they offer. Many of the HPUL Tribal staff take advantage of the AFLAC programs. AFLAC has offered the same type of coverage to Tribal Members, that the HPUL tribal staff receives. Accident, Hospital, Cancer, Short Term Disability, Critical Illness, Dental, Vision and Life Insurance were all the items covered during the presentation. As a Tribal Member if you are interested in signing up during the next enrollment period feel free to contact Barbaralee directly at Barbaralee_lilker@us.aflac.com or 707-354-3905.

At the meeting, the quarterly staff presentation to the General Membership was given by HPUL Programs and Services Coordinator, Ida D. Morrison who gave a powerpoint presentation on the Tribe’s many programs and services that provide assistance and incentives for Tribal Members. While some of the programs are federally funded, many of the HPUL programs are self-funded through the Tribe’s economic development efforts. Following Ida’s presentation, I was able to announce a couple of the following significant upcoming dates:

- January 28th, 2019: The Tribe’s Environmental Department hosted a Bone Identification Training at the HPUL Community Building. The training was put on by Sonoma State University and was designed to assist those different agencies engaged in tribal monitoring at the various sites in the area, in which the ground is being disturbed that may contain Native artifacts.

- February 10th, 2019: A little over 100 Tribal Members and their families attended the Sacramento Kings vs. the Phoenix Suns NBA game at Golden 1 Center, as the Kings celebrated their inaugural Native American Heritage Day. Traditional dancing was performed at halftime by 5th Direction. The Tribe was asked to be consulted in planning future Native American Heritage events with the Sacramento Kings to make the event better each year. (refer to page 29)

- March 29th, 2019: The Tribe’s Education Department held its...
2nd annual Future Leaders of Habematolel (F.L.O.H.) workshop. FLOH workshops are designed to target Tribal youth in the high school and young adult categories, to explore their ambitions and connect them with resources that will keep them motivated and empowered to pursue their goals as a young adult. The workshop had speakers from Mendocino College, US Forestry Service and Lake County Sheriff’s Department as well as representatives from CA Tribal Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), California Indian Manpower Association (CIMC) and the Youth Employment Opportunity Program. (refer to page 26)

March 31st, 2019: Many Members of the Tribe and their families attended the Cirque du Soleil’s “Crystal” performance located at the Golden 1 Center in Sacramento, Ca.

In exercising its right to Self-Determination, the Tribe recently amended its Enrollment Ordinance to update language to coincide with modern enrollment criteria terminology and put safeguards into law that protect the integrity of the Tribe and its General Membership. To continue along the path of Self-Determination the Tribe plans to amend its Constitution to streamline the process for keeping up with modern times as well. This has been a topic of discussion for several years now beginning in 2011. On the morning of Saturday, March 23rd, the Tribe hosted a General Membership Town Hall meeting to again review the reasons and process for moving forward with the constitutional amendments/changes. Several scenarios were discussed and proposed solutions were given to put measures in place to give the Tribe the right to exercise its sovereignty while maintaining reasonable restrictions. Also, more HPUL Tribal Program review and comparisons were discussed for the remainder of the meeting, most notably the Tribe’s - Tribal Charity Program and its Seven Generations Scholarship Fund.

The Tribe held its second Quarterly General Membership meeting on Saturday, April 13th at the HPUL Community Building. For the first part of the year both the Executive Council and Tribal Administration Staff have been communicating and working together on developing a plan to address the Tribe’s housing needs amongst its Members. Housing Director, Cathy Berton gave the staff presentation to explain the Tribe’s current housing programs that serve the Members and what the Tribe’s long-term vision of housing needs are. In addition, the attendees of the meeting were informed that the Tribe needs an updated “Needs Assessment Survey” to be able to move forward with getting a Housing Development funded. At the meeting, staff presented the Members with the Tribe’s Housing Commission survey for Tribal Members to fill out and return to the HPUL Tribal Office which was later sent to all members in an April, 2019 postal mailer from the Tribe.

In addition to housing updates, the administration announced several more upcoming significant dates:

April 27th, 2019: The Tribe’s 3rd annual “Earthfest” event put on by the Tribe’s Environmental Department to show our commitment to saving the Earth and preserving its environment by doing all we can to educate the public with informational booths and demonstrations (reduce, recycle, reuse). (refer to page 21–22)

May 14th, 2019: Tribal Members and their families/guests attended the San Francisco Giants vs. Toronto Blue Jays game for the Giants’ annual Native American Heritage Night. The Tribe has been attending this event for several years now and is also planning on attending the upcoming Native American Heritage Night for the Oakland A’s vs. Milwaukee Brewers on July 30th at the Oakland Coliseum.

May 25th & 26th & June 1st, 2019: The 6th annual Chaw’Se Day spring gathering and “Honored Elders Day” in Sacramento, CA was on June 1st. If you have other ideas for events or trips for the elders contact Ida Morrison at imorrison@hpultribe-nsn.gov or 707-275-0737 x 114.

The summer months look to be just as busy with the summer education program getting underway with what looks to be a full calendar of fun events, Wild West Days, Tule Boat Festival, HPUL Big Time and our continuing journey to a forthcoming Secretarial Election. Best wishes to everyone and hope to see you at our next General Membership Meeting on Saturday, July 13th at 12pm located at the HPUL Community Building.

Respectfully,

Anthony Arroyo Sr.
Tribal Administrator

Railroads in Native America will be a three-day symposium bringing together scholars, artists, musicians, tribal members and representatives from tribal governments, in partnership with the National Park Service, the Union Pacific Railroad Museum, and the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

This year marks the 150th anniversary of the union of Central Pacific and Union Pacific railroad tracks at Promontory Summit, Utah. Union Pacific laid their first mile of track in Omaha, Nebraska and historic Mile “zero” is just across the river in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

LAKE COUNTY WATER RESOURCES HOST OIL SPILL TRAINING

On March 20, 2019 Lake County Water Resources hosted an Oil Spill Response training. Special thanks to Office of Spill Prevention and Response (OSPR) for providing WRD with a brand new Oil Spill Response Equipment Trailer, Global Diving & Salvage, Inc. for the response training, and Habematolel Pomo of Upper Lake for providing logistical support. Thanks to all the participating departments, agencies, and organizations that came out and learned how to properly respond to a spill in Clear Lake. We are better together and stronger when we are prepared!

If you have questions or concerns about spills or illegal discharges into the lake, creeks, or streams you can call Lake County Water Resources Department at (707)263-2344 or message us on Facebook!

Towing the boom out into the water can only be accomplished with a trained team willing to work together with clear communication and matching jackets.

Learning the containment and exclusion technique. Necessary when you are trying to keep surface oil spill in one spot or likewise trying to keep it away from a sensitive area.

It takes a village or an assembly line of folks from three departments, one city, two tribes, and the state! Never let the boom hit the ground.

Don’t let this serene picture fool you, it was very windy and the boom was pulling hard but the WRD’s new Boulton took it like a champ. Thanks to our awesome field captain, Mark Miller who led the charge.

Supporters of the Protect Oak Flat protest gathered February 8th, 2019 in downtown San Carlos, AZ to dance, pray, and prepare for the 40-mile march to the Oak Flat campground near Superior, AZ. For a video of this movement, visit https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=szRZkzgmru4 or visit https://www.facebook.com/Saving-OAK-FLAT-Arizona-20298693114242/ for more information on protecting Oak Flat.

It’s with great pride that the Brown family was able to make the trip to Arizona and support not only the Apache Tribe with good cause, but all natives in their courageous movement in protecting native lands and resources. During the trip the Brown family made a pit spot in Nevada to indulge in some “family time” and take some family photos that they’d like to share.

On February 1, 2019 the Simon family of Middletown, CA was honored at a gala by the Gibson Museum. The gala was devoted to celebrating the life and times of this Lake County Pomo family through a grassroots exhibit of all the various artifacts that had been gathered by family members throughout the years such as photos, news articles, Pomo ceremonial regalia, blankets, baskets, instruments, etc.

Pomo songs were shared with a beautiful native drum beat by Millie Simon, who had shared memories of work and play activities growing up in Middletown. A table filled with home-made goods, appetizers, and hors-d’oeuvre added to the festivities.

The Tribal Advisory Committee (TAC) was formed in the Spring of 2017 as a county advisory committee to the 3 Lake County Museums: The Historic Courthouse Museum in Lakeport, the Schoolhouse Museum in Lower Lake, and the Gibson Museum in Middletown, which all have Native Pomo exhibits. TAC’s role and responsibility is to provide a voice and to give feedback on these exhibits, cultural resources, and educational programs related to Pomo culture that is provided by the museums. All TAC members serve on the Committee as volunteers representing the 7 Pomo Tribes of Lake County, plus 2 alternates. Meetings are held on the 2nd Wednesday of each month at 10:00 a.m. and alternate between the 3 museums.

Early in 2018, TAC agreed to partner with the Museums of Lake County to support the commission and installation of the Lake Pomo Family Statue. The Lake County Board of Supervisors have unanimously approved our request to place the statue on the grounds near the Historic Courthouse Museum. This project has been a major endeavor for TAC in the submission of an NEA grant and in the organization of a long-term fundraising effort. We believe that this statue will give a greater presence for the Pomo People and will become a positive contribution to the Lake County community.

Tuesday 26 February 2019 — The Middletown Rancheria of Pomo Indians of California Tribe presented a check to the Museums of Lake County Tribal Advisory Committee, donating a very generous $10,000.00 in full support of the Lake Pomo Family Statue Project.
